Dedication

We would like to dedicate the 1999-2000 Quadrangle
Yearbook to Charles Hudson,
President of the Board of Trustees and Natalie Shelton who is leaving LaGrange College to be with her husband and child in Europe.

Thank you for all your hard work and dedication to LaGrange College.
God be with you.

Founded in 1831, LaGrange College was one of the first higher educational institutions in the state of Georgia. It has outlasted several wars and depressions, but has prospered nonetheless. The following section is a brief pictorial history of the college and is dedicated to all the faculty, staff, and students that have made it what it is today.

Men's Basketball

The 1999-2000 season marked an end and foreshadowed a new beginning for the LaGrange College Panthers. This was the last season that the Panthers would compete in the Georgia Alabama Carolina Conference (GACC) of the NAIA. This is arguably one of the best conferences in the nation in men's basketball. The GACC sent three teams to the NAIA Division I National Tournament. The only conference to do so. The Panthers have competed valiantly in the GACC but it is time to move on. Next Season will mark a new beginning in NCAA Division III. The Panthers are forming a new conference in Division III, which will be called the Great South Athletic Conference. Although the conference is still forming there will be a conference champion named at the end of the season tournament. The entire staff and team are excited about the move to NCAA Division III and competing against schools who share the same mission and vision as LaGrange College. The Panther's two returning bright spots from last season are Antwaun Hawkins, who was voted to the All-Freshman Conference Team this year, and Colt McDowell, who was picked by his teammates as the teams most dedicated player. These two individuals will play a huge roll in the success of LaGrange College in the future because of their extreme amount of hard work and dedication. Head Coach Joe Cambron and his assistants, Warren Hayens and Jason Williams; look forward to seeing Mariotti Gymnasium packed full of Panther faithful.

On Your Mark, Get Set, Go!

LaGrange hosted the 1999 Special Olympics for the state of Georgia in the fall. The event was a huge success thanks to the hard work of many volunteers, and the participants had a great time whether they received a gold medal or not. Everyone was a winner at these Special Olympics!

Challenging minds and inspiring souls goes beyond the classroom. The dedicated staff and faculty of LaGrange College regularly participate in service projects. Even President Stuart Gulley and Vice President Linda Buchanan find time for servant leadership.

Graduation

“Greetings to the class of 2000...”

The graduating class of 2000 had a lot to be excited about on June 3. Granted, it was the first time in years that many had even seen 8:30 on a Saturday morning but complaints about the early hour and the heat of the morning sun were quickly drowned out by the sound of bag-pipes in the distance. Over one hundred LaGrange College students were greeted by President Stuart Gulley and Roy E. Barnes, Governor of Georgia, not long before they were handed their diplomas and shifted their tassels from the right to the left. Then, as the bag-pipes played once again, the class of 2000 said farewell to any more early mornings at LaGrange and said hello to the rest of their lives.

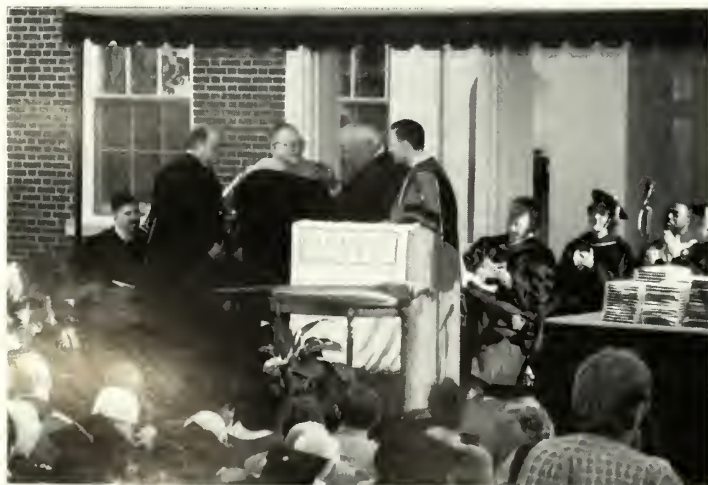

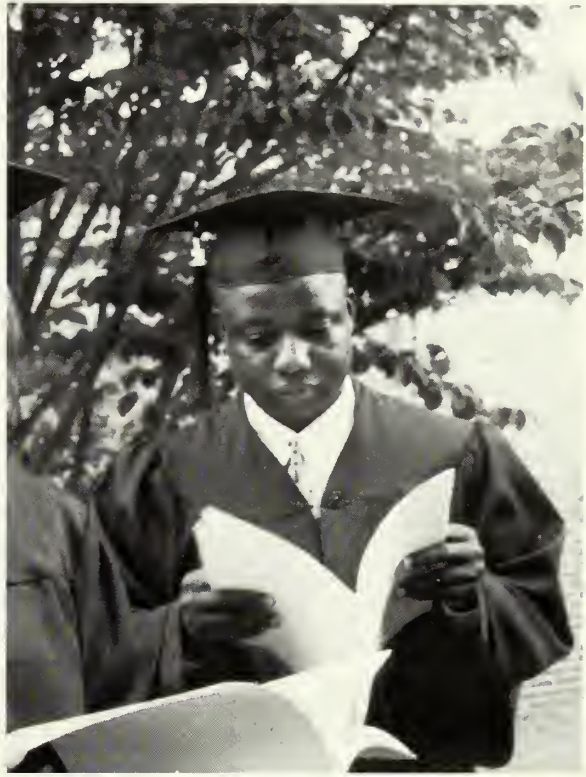

One of the major challenges of LaGrange College today is to show its students that to prosper in life they must give back to the community. Because of this philosophy, the administration has created a strong Servant Leadership program that teaches students how to care and give.

Editor's Page- Stacy Gorman

I'm not sure how to begin. It's my senior year and last year as editor of the yearbook. I can remember when I thought this year would never end and then I can remember times when I felt like the year was slipping by and I could do nothing to stop it. I'm sure that there are certain things that one should mention in an "Editor's Letter," but I am completely clueless. Unfortunately there are no classes that I am aware of that teach you the protocol for this sort of thing. I will warn you now that I am probably babbling because it is getting late and I am getting more and more tired by the minute.

I suppose that the first thing I ought to do is to thank all of the people that have helped me along the way. My family has always been there for me, even though they weren't able to participate in the completion of this book directly, they have helped more than they will ever know. I also want to thank my sorority. Alpha Omicron Pi has helped me grow into the person I am today and from that group I would like to thank several individuals (though all have been there for me). First and most importantly is my family, original and adopted. Laurel is the best little sister that anyone could ever have. Sallie, I am so proud to call you a sister and more importantly a friend. Missy, I could never have completed this without you. You are my constant in a hectic world. Stephanie, I don't know how to thank you for making my senior year such a wonderful one. Leigh, I wish there was a way that I could explain how important you are to me. You are so very special and I could never thank you enough. Alicia, though the thick and thin, you are the one person that I could never stay mad at long. It must be your smile. Mandy Lupo, you have become my best friend. My only regret is that I didn't meet you earlier in my life. I also want to thank several members of the faculty that have been so generous to me throughout the year. You have made my time at LaGrange College a wonderful experience. These people are Dean Ted, Mrs. Kirby McCartney, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Turner, Marcia Gorman, Debbie Bonaminio, and most importantly Marcia Brown.

That should do it for my personal thanks. I would also like to mention that this book would never have made it if it weren't for my staff, Dana, Natalie Shelton, Bob Thomas, Martha Pirkle. They have all donated time and effort to this yearbooks production. Also, thanks to all the staff and faculty that donated pictures and facts.

At this point I would like to make my apologies. I feel sure that I have messed up somewhere despite my effort. Nobodys perfect. I just wanted to say that if I forgot someone or misspelled something I want everyone to know that I am sorry.

All in all, I enjoyed working on this book. It recalls memories that had already begun to fade. Perhaps through my time as Editor, I have created a way for all of us to remember our time at LaGrange College a little better.

Thanks for everything!
Stacy A. Gorman

Colophon

Volume 83 of the 1999-2000 LaGrange College Quadrangle was printed by Jostens in Clarksville, Tennessee. Jostens' Company Representatives were David, Paulette, and Payton Zeigler.

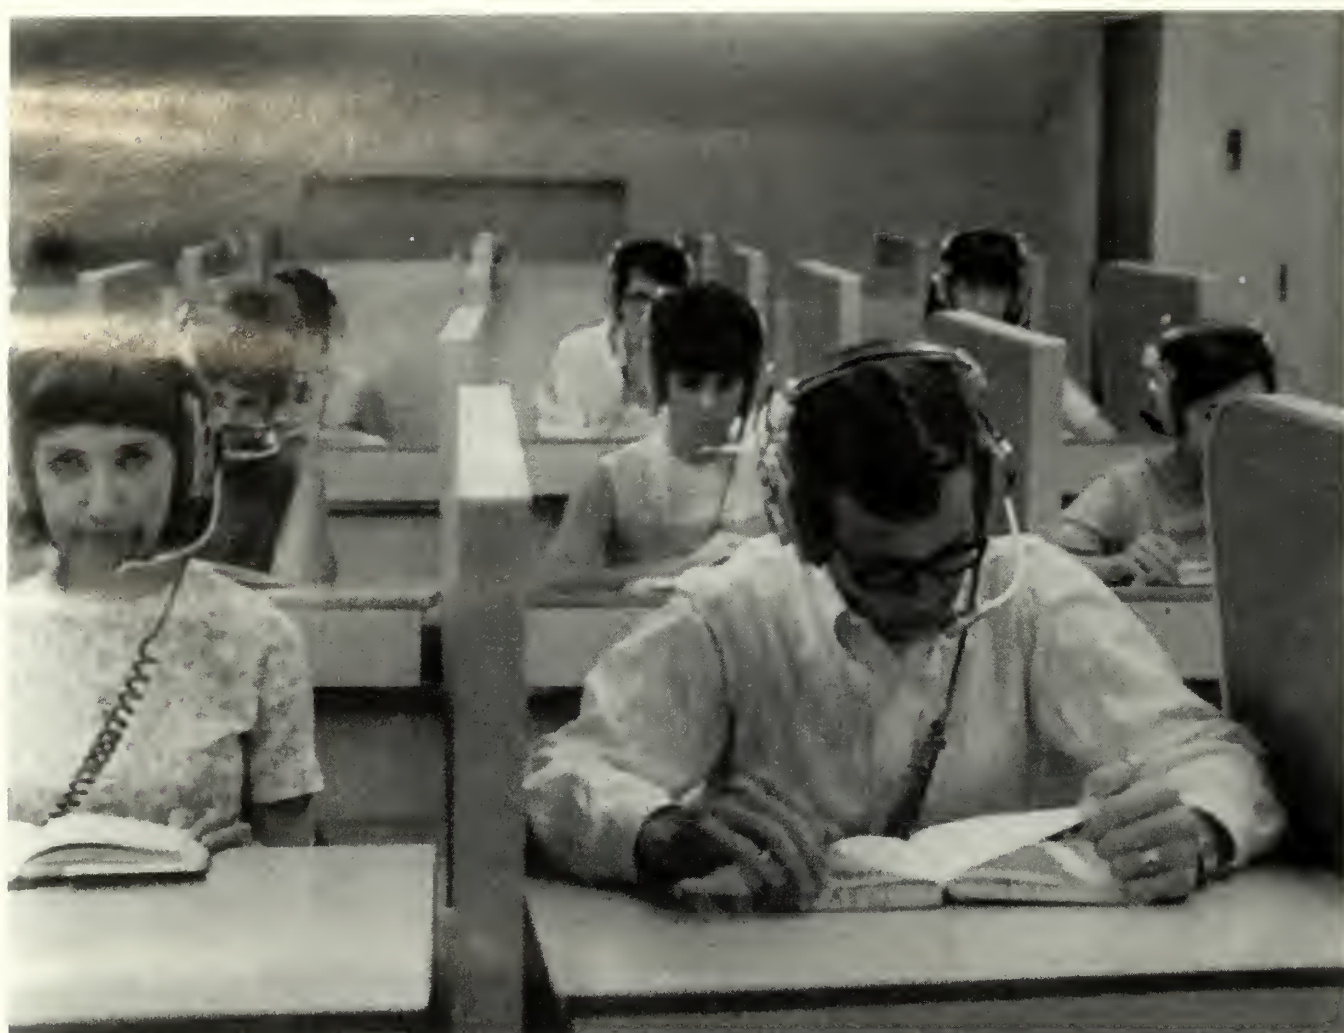

The cover was designed by Stacy Gorman and Katherine Holbach with influence from a LaGrange College Graduation invitation from 1899. The endsheets are light beige.

The paper is 80-pound Mead glossy stock. The 1999-2000 Quadrangle measures 9"x12" (size 9), with a 160 point binder's board, Smythe sewn. All copy used is Helvetica and Palatino. All copy, layout, and graphic elements were produced on a Macintosh 6500/250 PowerPC using Pagemaker.

Student portraits were done by Al Yates in LaGrange, Georgia. All other photography was provided by Debrah G. Bonaminio, Ted Scharre, Natalie Shelton, Valerie Caswell, Stacy Gorman, Kathrine Holbach, Natalie Shelton, Bob Thomas, Nicholas Bellayuto, and Julie Bell. Special thanks for the Theatre Arts Department for donating pictures of this year's theatrical productions to the Quadrangle.

This volume contains 192 pages, including 32 pages printed in four color. The 1999-2000 Quadrangle had a press run of 600 copies. Additional copies may be purchased from the Office of Student Development, LaGrange College, LaGrange, Georgia, 30240
